FREE MAN HELD FOR WIFE'S MURDER

WEALTHY BUSINESS MAN SHOTS PRISONER IN BACK FOR ALLEGED ATTACK ON HIS YOUNG DAUGHTER

BRADENTOWN, Fla., April 5 (Special)—Joe Kopman, prominent wealthy white fruit grower, took the law into his own hands to get the lead on a lynching mob that was forming, shot and killed a Negro accused of attacking his small daughter, and two hours later was freed by a coroner's jury who held the act "justifiable homicide."

The colored man, James Franklin, was being escorted between two officers from the office of a physician where he had a physical and mental examination. The white wealthy Southerner, who had been lying in wait for an opportunity, stepped up behind the trio and fired two shots from a revolver into Franklin's back. The wounded man was sent to the hospital upon arrival of an ambulance some time later. He died shortly afterwards.

Kopman, following his release by the jury, was placed at the head of a group of admiring friends and marched in the style of the conquering hero to his home where the demonstrations continued for some time.

Before his death, Franklin had steadfastly denied criminally attacking the child, though he had been halfheartedly identified by her as the assailant. He told officers he had been working next door to the Kopman home and the girl fell from a tree last Saturday and he ran to her assistance believing she had been hurt. She suffered only slight bruises, doctors reported.

Testimony of authorities as to whether or not an assault had been committed was not clear and unanimous.

Franklin was known among his friends to have been in poor physical condition. He had been adjudged sane.

GARAGE EMPLOYE FINED FOR PART IN SLAYING

Stoten Brooks, 24, 2233 North Arsenal avenue, was fined $365 by Judge Frank A. Baker in Criminal court Wednesday when found guilty of a charge of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Brooks was bound over to the grand jury a week ago on a charge of murder in connection with the death of a man named Steele in a garage on Virginia avenue several months ago.

The grand jury refused to return an indictment on the murder charge, preferring to believe that the evidence was insufficient to warrant it.

Brooks and Steele employees for garage proprietors, are said to have taken up among themselves the quarrel of their bosses. The former said he shot Steele when the latter pulled a knife from his pocket and menaced him.

Brooks was sent to the state farm when unable to pay his fine.

Bert Watson Takes Over Grand Cafe

Bert Watson, former proprietor of the Greathouse buffet has taken over operation and management of the Grand Cafeteria, 451 Indiana avenue. A first class cuisine with times will be maintained under the supervision of Mr. LeMan, one of the best known chefs in the city, it is said.

Mr. Watson recently returned to the city after a six years' residence in Gary and Chicago, Ill.

The new service will offer beer and Chinese foods of all kinds.

E. L. JOHNSON IS CANDIDATE FOR CITY COUNCIL

E. L. Johnson, for many years a resident of this city and one of the leading members of its bar, has announced his candidacy for the nomination at the Democratic primaries May 8 as city councilman from the sixth district.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Johnson says he endorses the administration of Mayor Sullivan and promises "if nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of that important office to the best interest of all of the people of the city."

Mr. Johnson was born at Tuskegee, Alabama, the town of the school brought into existence by Booker T. Washington. He was graduated from the Tuskegee Institute and Howard university. For several years he practiced law in Washington, D. C., moving to Indianapolis in 1917 at which time he was admitted to the bar here.

He is a member of the Odd Fellows and Elks lodges; the Y. M. C. A., and the Second Baptist church. He is married and has two children.

Mr. Johnson maintains a suite of offices at 152 1/2 East Court street and employs a stenographer and clerk.

A tribute recently paid to the councilman candidate says "Among the lawyers of this city measuring up well with the requirements is E. L. Johnson. He is a most fitting type of man for entering the courts in behalf of clients."

He commands respect at all times and is considered as possessing notable ability as a lawyer. He is a courteous and fearless advocate of right and fair play. He is an exemplary father and husband. He has ever maintained and evinced an absorbing interest in the work and welfare of his race and the city generally.

"Those who know him have learned to respect and rely upon his wisdom and judgment."

"In these days when so much of hope, fortitude, and unshakable faith in the wisdom of our institutions are needed, it would be an act of supreme wisdom for the citizens of Indianapolis to elect Mr. Johnson to the city council. His fine personality and sterling rugged character will have the balancing influence needed. His services are indispensable to the city at this time."

JUDGE DISMISSES MURDER CHARGES AGAINST HUSBAND FOR LACK OF EVIDENCE

Charges of murder were dismissed against Edward Fred McMillan in municipal court Tuesday afternoon by Judge Dewey Myers, who held that the evidence presented by the police was insufficient to warrant the charge.

McMillan, 28 2452 1/2 Martindale avenue had been held since March 20 when the body of his wife, Mrs. Cora McMillan was found in a driveway out on West Sixteenth street about a mile beyond the Speedway. According to the police the woman had been beaten to death by a crowbar or similar instrument and left on the deserted road eight or ten hours before her body was discovered at 9 a. m.

Following a statement by Judge Myers that his action did not preclude further investigation of the matter by the police, Lieutenant Donald Tooley said that he may present the case to the grand jury.

McMillan was ordered to pay $6 which it is claimed he owed to the probation department on a fine on an assault and battery charge given some time ago.

Though questioned for two weeks, police are said to have failed to shake the accused man's story that he had any part in the crime. A week ago, the murder charge was placed against him following body was discovered.

SPECIALIST

DR. L. L. ALLEN, Milwaukee, Wis., authority on the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis who will assist in clinical demonstrations at the City hospital Monday and Tuesday.

Pastors to Exchange Churches Sunday

What is said to be an innovation is seen in the announcement that two large city churches, one white and the other colored will exchange pastors and choir to take absolute charge of services Sunday evening at 7:30.

Rev. R. C. Henderson, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. church, will accompany the choir and have charge of services at that time at the First Evangelical church, 501 East New York street. At the same time Rev. K. H. Mueller, pastor of the Evangelical church, accompanied by his choir, will have charge of services at Bethel.

The plan had its origin in a conversation the two pastors had while en route here from Chicago.

Though unknown to each other at that time, the men became sufficiently impressed with their mutual reputations to readily agree to the suggestion.

Character will have the balancing influence needed. His services are indispensable to the city at this time.

RECORDER LAUNCHES ANNUAL SALES BUILDING CAMPAIGN

Right out of the "world of prizes campaign" into what will be determined the greatest contest in the history of Indiana's Greatest Weekly, go the young sales boosters into the annual "Sales Building Campaign". Every energetic carrier of this enthusiastic force is making preparation for this big annual drive for new subscribers. The reason is, that with the co-operation of his parents, they have a grand opportunity to visit "A Century of Progress Expedition" in July.

The World of Prizes Campaign which closed this week, was a success and proved a great favor to those carriers who reached their quota before the close. Many awards were made. Wrist watches, pocket watches, wagons, pencil sets, flashlights and roller skates were given as prizes for each carrier's achievement. Some carriers were so determined that they were successful in winning more than one prize. Those that already have received their prizes are: Samuel Gibbs, Louise McNeely, William Glass, Leo Glass, Eugene McQueen, James McQueen, Robert Bonner, Clinton Tucker, Marshall Reynolds, Charles Valentine, Robert Hayes, Lillian Jones, Albert Eastman, Charles Caldwell, Lowell Trice, Adolph Smith, James Winslow, Otha Lee Hill, William Rodgers, William Johnson, Henry Middleton, Glori Simms, Sim Graves, Scott Eberhardt and Norman Gooch. Many other carriers will receive prizes as soon as verifications are complete.

Plans have been completed by the management and the circulation department of The Recorder for the annual city-wide "Sales Building Campaign". It is intended that this drive for new readers will be the greatest ever put on by the institution. Parent of the aspiring organization of carriers have been invited to participate and it is expected that each will rally one-hundred percent in their efforts to make the contest a success. The drive will open April 9, and close June 9.

Here is good news for other parent of the city who are interested in the welfare of their children. A special invitation is extended to parents whose children are not members of The Recorder Newsies Club.

All city parent who desire to enter this contest and take advantage of this amazing opportunity may do so by filling in an application blank which can be found on another page of this issue. Mail or bring same to our office at 518-20 Indiana Avenue today. Hurry, don't wait until the campaign opens. Be ready to start with the gun April 9.

HUSBAND GIVEN DIVORCE

James Dupee and not Mrs. Chas. Dupee (as reported last week) was granted the divorce in the case

Your boy or girl may join this organization through your entry in the "Sales Building Campaign". There are no charges. The task of each parent throughout the campaign will be a matter of solicitation for new readers for The Recorder. Your child's membership becomes effective by selling copies of The Indianapolis Recorder to those subscribers you obtain each week throughout the campaign.

It is the earnest efforts of the management to teach the young readers of this organization the fundamental principles of establishing a solid foundation for Negro achievement. The efforts of each parent in this contest will be educational and extended encouragement to the organization. There will be many awards to winners at the end of this great drive and three trips to Chicago and A Century of Progress Expedition, will top the list as major prizes. The management is also contributing cash awards to other winners according to their respective standing.

Contestants will be governed by the following rules throughout the campaign:

An appeal is made to the public for their earnest co-operation and patronage. When a person, not a subscriber, refuses a subscription to The Recorder he sponsors unemployment. He will discourage a youngster endeavoring to lay a foundation for years to come. Many ambitions are destroyed in our youth, by unthoughtful discouragements. He fails to support a worthy race institution from which the heads of sixteen families depend for maintenance. He is refusing five-cents a week to a race paper that brings to you twenty-five times as much news about his own group, which he should be interested in, as he gets in all three daily papers combined. Don't stop reading the daily papers but let your Negro paper come into your home weekly also.

YWCA SECRETARY BURIED WITH SIMPLE RITES

Miss Alta M. Rooney, member of the staff of the Phyllis Wheatley Y. W. C. A., whose premature death brought ineffable grief to the city's intelligentsia, was buried Tuesday afternoon following rites held at the Witherspoon Presbyterian church, Rev. D. F. White, the pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. M. W. Clair, Jr.

Simplicity marked the order of services throughout. An organ prelude played by Mrs. Hazel Bates Johnson accompanied the entrance of the a cappella choir of which Miss Rooney was a member. The reading of the obituary by Mrs. Morton Finney was followed by remarks by the ministers. A solo by Mrs. Maude Wilson and a number by the choir closed the program.

Miss Rooney was taken ill March 22 at her home, 4050 Boulevard place and died last Saturday. She was born here in 1903 and was educated at Shortridge high school, Terre Haute Normal school and the University of Michigan, where she received her bachelor's and Master's degrees.

Equipped with superior training plus a gracious, gentle and genial personality which enabled her to influence the lives of people about her, she returned here as house and membership secretary of the Phyllis

Oh, Love! Look What You've Done to Me

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6th.—(By ANP)—When Harry Townder, former dining car waiter, fell in love with Miss Inez Wayne of this city several months ago and promised to marry her on a certain date, he had a job.

Then he lost the job and the marriage came.

Townder had only enough money for a one-way ticket from St. Louis to this city. He therefore decided to bum a ride.

He boarded a passenger train in St. Louis Friday night and secreted himself beneath a berth in a compartment and went to sleep. Soon, the pipes got hot, too hot for Mr. Townder. Two men were in one of the berths and they were talking. Finally, it got so hot, Townder had to come out. The men leveled guns on him and forced him to get back under the berth, holding him there until they reached this city where he was turned over to police authorities.

The two guests in the compartment chosen by Townder were United States marshals. At that, he could have made a worse mistake.

His Wheatley in 1931 after having taught school for three years at Shelby, N. C., and Knoxville, Tenn. She is a member of the A.K.A. sorority.

Surviving are: parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Rooney; four sisters, Mrs. H. B. Borders C. Johnson, City, Tenn., Mrs. Narcissa Wilson, Chicago, Mrs. Lillian Jones, Denver, Col., and Miss Martha Rooney, a brother, Arthur Rooney, Jr.

Interment was in Crown Hill cemetery. C. M. C. Willis and Son had charge of the funeral.

Armour Company Recognize Workers

Union meat cutters, among which are a number of local colored meat cutters, won their fight this week for recognition by the Armour and Company. Along with the recognition of local workers the company gave in to 28 demands of the workers.

Leading the fight for 127 organized meat workers were three local colored workers who were part of a committee of five to meet officials of the meat company. The workers are: Garrett Payne, Eldridge Morton and Abe Cheeks.

Members of the workers committee reported that since they have won the fight that a large increase in union membership is expected. Already the membership has jumped to 450.

The victorious workers are known in union ranks as Local 156 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of America.

KAPPA AND OMEGA BASKETBALL PLAYERS ARRIVE FOR BIG GAME HERE IN ATTACKS HI GYMNASIUM

Both Teams Will Tower Well Over Six Feet in Third Game of Series Tonight (Friday); Mann and Dejernett to Feature Play

(BULLETIN) Both Kappa and Omega players arrived here this afternoon and after a light workout tapered off for the game tonight in the Attacks gym. Both teams will tower around six feet, and will be practically evenly matched when the game opens.

Tonight (Friday) will find a divided house in the Crispus Attucks high school gymnasium, some rooting for the Kappa Alpha Psi basketball team, and still others yelling for the Omega Psi Phi's. The preliminary game is scheduled to start at 7:30 with the main attraction immediately afterwards.

Both teams will be heavy and fast; the game will be harder than ever, and many new men will give the expected hundreds of fans a real treat for their money.

Of the old aces in the annual net fray will find Fitzhugh Lyons, "Pat" McPherson, "Van" Jenkins, "Ed" Richey, Jack Mann, Allen Freeman, and several new faces on the Kappa team; the Omegas, on the other hand will depend on "Doc" Clark, B. Fayne, P. Johnson, Lucas, Ashe, Dejernett, and one or two others. With lineups like that one can prepare to see the hottest game in many moons around here.

The whistle tooting will be done by George Grey and Radford Morris, two members of the Alpha Phi Alpha, while W. Hughes and Kenneth Hyde will handle the time and scoring respectively, then the parade of professional athletes will begin.

A large following of out of town students from the various nearby colleges are expected to follow the creek letter basketball players to give a collegiate background to the game. Carl Anderson will lead cheers for the Kappas as usual and no doubt the Omegas will have chosen someone to do the contortion acts for them.

After the game the patrons will wind up the evening at the Walker Casino where the Victory Ball will be held. Music will be furnished by the Brown Buddies orchestra.

BABY LINCOLNS READY

Owners of the Indianapolis Baby Lincolns have been meeting regularly getting ready for the coming season. Herschel Ballard heads the organization, and the plans are to play the team in fast semi-pro circles again this year.

The team claims a record of losing six out of thirty-two games played last season. Any team wishing games with the Lincolns this year should write James Brookins, 321 Horsbrook St.

KELLY WINS

LOS ANGELES (W.S.)—Leo Kelly, hard-punching middleweight, won a four round decision from Donn Conn here last Tuesday night in a preliminary bout to that of Tony Canzoneri and Baby Arizmendil. The battle was about even until the fourth round when the referee told Kelly he had better stop pulling his punches.

MONARCHS IN PRACTICE

Pat's Monarch's went through an early workout last Sunday morning and will practice again at 10:00 next Sunday on the Douglass diamond.

All teams wishing games with the Monarchs may write Tiny Baldwin at 540 Indiana avenue. Any players wishing to try-out may meet the team at Douglass park.

Just one year ago your humble servant started out in the sport world as an editor and in his own humble way attempted to keep sports fans in step with activities both local and national. Also your servant wishes to thank the many readers for the many letters that come in. Before another year is rounded out it is hoped the sports columns will give the many followers more interesting stories and editorials in this particular field. Next week will be turned over to acknowledgments from the many readers, just tell me what thing or sport you enjoy best of all, what you found about the sport page that interested you most of all.

HARBINGERS OF SPRING
When the boys start tossing the ball around Douglass Park in early spring practice, we will find thousands of fans around the various diamonds yelling for their favorite teams, and listening to sound of cracking bats. Then, too, other sports will attract their share of attention from fans this spring and summer, golf, tennis, swimming, etc.
This also brings us around to our all friend "The Dub" who will treat us with many tales from the "Fairway" this year. It will also be interesting to know that the Douglass Golf Club numbers near the half century mark, and that a big golf program awaits the many followers of that sport.

HORACE MANN WINS

The first state indoor track meet held under the auspices of the I. H. S. A. A. was won by Horace Mann, Gary when Kokomo was used out by eight and one half points the final totals were 38-30½, Froebel, another Gary school, placed fifth with 22 points.

Among the Negro athletes who participated in the meet were Pickett, Froebel, Parker, Anderson, Fendelton, Froebel, Elliott, Kokomo who holds the out of door dash title and a large number of others.

Athletes in high school circles will turn attention towards the out of door season which will open very shortly. Sectionals and finals are scheduled early in May. Finals will be held at Butler.

Woman's Improvement Club Rounds Out Thirty Years Of Philanthropic Service In Valiant Fight Against Tuberculosis

(By LEE A. JOHNSON)

A small light that gradually grew to a large beacon in the night and sent its bright beam far out in the darkness, lighting the way to rescue for the unfortunate from the turbulent seas of despair and distress would suffice in describing the birth and growth of a club in Indianapolis that has become an institution adding materially to the welfare and general health of our city.

Club Founded in 1904

In retracing the history of the Women's Improvement club from its very beginning when a small group of women were assembled in Second Baptist Church under the leadership of Mrs. Lillian Thomas Fox, February 7, 1904, who had as their objective "Self Improvement", we set out each step made by this body from its very inception to this day "Subsequent meetings were held by this group until a permanent organization was formed with Mrs. Fox as the president, Mrs. Beulah Price, vice, and Mrs. Roxie Bell, secretary. "Deeds Not Words" was selected as the club motto. Fitting words of tribute to the founder could be no more beautifully said by the club than our founder, Mrs. Lillian Fox, must have had a view of the distant future when she wrote our motto, for we have done what we could without the flouting of banners and ringing of bells. Countless lives have been touched and thankful hearts have sung our praise, though we may never hear even the echo.

Turns to Civic Work

Because of the original ideal of the club—self-improvement—the club naturally selected their present name "Women's Improvement Club" and the women at that time found themselves doing much to improve their literary acquaintance with many authors of that day. It was later decided that something should be done in a philanthropic way to aid in bettering their environment so the club added to self-improvement the task of Civic betterment.

Mrs. Sarah Colton Smith became interested in the work of the club and was responsible for the undertaking of doing something about the health of the community. Hence the fight against tuberculosis was begun for it seemed that this disease was more prevalent among our group.

At that time Sunnyside was never through of, Doctors were few, and among our group prevention, treatment or cure of this particular disease was much needed. A first sale of Christmas Seals found the Women's Improvement Club taking an active part. When the idea of Sunnyside was in an early cogitant stage the Club took an active part in urging the County Council to build the project.

Establishes T. B. Camp

The first constructive work in this new adventure of the club was begun spring of 1905 when a fresh air camp was established on Oak Hill. Tents and other materials were secured by Miss Ada Harris and Mrs. Ida M. Bryant who was president at this time. The camp capacity was six patients. The equipment consisted of three tents with board floors, a portable frame building partitioned off so that it might serve as living quarters for the matron. The setting was very beautiful for the patients, located on a high hill with grand oak trees spreading their shady boughs over a tiny stream that trickled at the base. William Hannon, a wealthy German citizen, was the donor of this site. Dr. Alfred Henry was the specialist whose guidance and co-operative spirit to gether with the Board of Health served best in the treatment of cases in our limited quarters.

T. B. Camp Suspended

It was in 1916 that the rapid expanding community forced the removal of the camp, so temporarily the work was suspended while an intensive campaign was carried on to raise funds for its continuance. During this campaign there were many nationally known artists presented, several plays, and entertainments of various types were presented. Mrs. Francis B. Coston and Mrs. Lillian J. Brown were responsible for putting over two of the largest affairs. Shortly after the camp was closed it was decided by the club that there were many cases of T. B. that were never reached so the services of Mrs. Brabham, a member, were acquired to do social service work, seek out those cases, and with the aid of other agencies do what ever was possible to alleviate conditions of the suffering.

Miss Sales, a trained nurse succeeded Mrs. Brabham, and the work of the club in its fight against disease was carried on, tents were loaned to the homes of sufferers, transportation was paid for individuals to their homes in other cities, many were aided in getting in fresh air institutions, and a general fight to improve the health in the home where unhealthy conditions prevailed. One could write hundreds of pages in setting out the many types of cases and individuals that were aided by this group of determined women, but there are a few other things worthy of note that should be brought out that are of interest to the public. The membership of the club was made up of busy women who were interested in all forward movements of the city, both civic and social. This number gradually increased to thirty which is about the present number that are enrolled.

Gains City Recognition

In 1910 the Chamber of Commerce recognized the Women's Improvement Club for its services to the community, and in 1918 when the War Chest was formed it was no difficult problem to get recognition as an organized charity, worthy of participation in the chest, the present Community Fund succeeded the War Chest.

In 1922, after the services of the friendly visitor were dispensed with the former Charity Hospital was secured in which to treat advanced cases of T. B. This building was located on California and Michigan streets, and was used for

CHARITY LODGE TO HOLD ANNUAL SERVICE, APR. 8

To the Grand officers, members and Juveniles, Greetings:

Knowing that the 2nd Sunday in April has been set aside for your thanksgiving day worship, it is fitting that we assemble in our churches and there give thanks to God, for the blessing he has bestowed upon us during the past year, since we met in our last Annual service. We have come through experiences that tried our souls, but let us thank God for watching over this grand organization, known as the Sisters of Charity, and keeping us both spiritually and financially alive. We invite the public to come and worship with us, April 8th at Bethel A. M. E. Church, in Indianapolis.

Therefore, I, Parthena Crawford, by the authority in me vested as Grand Body President of the Grand Body Sisters of Charity of Indiana and California, do hereby set forth the 8th day of April, 1934, the same being the second Sunday as our Annual sermon day. Let every jurisdiction, led by Grand officers, observe this day. Art. 5, Sec. 10—Constitution By-Laws—in Indianapolis, we will worship at Greater Bethel A.M.E. Church at the appointed hour, 2 p. m.

Given under my hand and seal, this, the 26th day of March, 1934, Parthena Crawford, G. Pres.; Patricia Taylor, G. Sec.; Celia J. Marx, G. Mother Matron; Ella Settles, G. Sec'y. End Dept.; Jno. A. Patton, Chr. Trustees; Rev. Plummer D. Jacobs, G. Supt.—(Adv.)

Browning's musical career had kept him in or near London for several years.

Miss Harolaine Leota's first name is a combination of those of her father and mother, (Harold and Maurine) and her second is that of her American Godmother, Mrs. Leota N. Lackley, whose husband is resident physician for Wilberforce university. The child also has an English Godmother, Lady Mary Cook. Harolaine is doing excellent work in Convent High school, London, where together with her regular studies she is making splendid progress in music and French. In February she received her School medal for having the best marks in her class for a month.

This Anglo-American child has already demonstrated her ability as an actress. At the age of four and a-half she played a leading part in Roger Quilter's ballet "Mid-Summer Night's Dream," at the Cambridge theatre. She had also acted at the Annual Theatre Garden party. She has been given the leading parts in her School musicals and entertainments and

BONUS TEMPLE IS DEMOCRATIC CLUB FOUNDER

12th Ward Leader Ranks High in Party Circles

(By GABRIEL STANLEY)
Of all the many hundreds of vigilant and formidable Democratic workers in Indianapolis, Carter (Bonus) Temple, well known throughout the length and breadth of this municipality, has for long been widely recognized as one of the most influentially active Democrats.

A staff member of the department of public works as a foreman, Mr. Temple, who has under his charge a large number of city paid colored workers, is founder of what is known as the Twelfth Ward, Tenth Precinct Democratic Club.

A recent interview with Winbur Winslow, street superintendent, John Bercey, superintendent of the City asphalt plant, disclosed that in the opinion of these officials, Mr. Temple ranks high in the estimate of all leading Democrats in the city.

Because it is not sufficiently widely known, the writer feels called upon to state that Mr. Temple is clearly in the category of a fearless Democratic ward leader.

An ardent adherent of the party of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and a political fighter of extraordinary tenacity, the Twelfth Ward Democratic leader is busy mustering his forces for the big local mayoralty battle approaching.

That he is 100 percent sincere in his desire to help put his party causes over the top in a big way, is revealed in the circumstance that Mr. Temple has just donated to the County Commission a voting place at 548 Minerva street, to facilitate voters' registration in his precinct.

And it is noteworthy that the newly established Minerva street voting place is now daily buzzing with activity under a large hand-painted sign (also donated by Mr. Temple) calling upon citizens to register here from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. until April 9.

Stephen J. Young Is Precinct Candidate

Stephen J. Young, Jr., 1806 West Michigan street, has announced his candidacy for democratic precinct committeeman in the first precinct of the 12th ward.

Mr. Young was born in Maryland and had lived here for the past nine years. A printer by trade, he has been active in church, fraternal, and civic circles.

He is a former employee of The Indianapolis Recorder, the father of four children, and is endorsed by the Marco Democratic club, of which he is secretary.

LUBRICATION IS VERY IMPORTANT FOR THAT AUTO

With the rapid approach of spring and favorable driving weather, many problems of the motorist arise; chief among which are lubrication and its importance to both old and new cars.

Spring lubrication this year will have a double significance. Not only is it important to service last year's cars for summer driving, but it is also important that the newer models with their more complicated lubrication problems be intelligently serviced.

Needs Attention Early

The 500 mile mark is a most critical time in the life of an automobile for at that mileage a complete change of lubricants is necessary. Motor oil should be changed to rid the lubricant of metal particles that have worn off bearings and other surfaces. The motor should be well flushed with flushing oil to wash away any metal particles that may have found their way into tight parts of the motor where they can't be carried out with the oil stream when the crankcase is drained.

All new motors are subject to this condition because of the closeness of the fits between moving surfaces and because bearing surfaces have not had a chance to wear in. This makes it highly important to flush new motors at the 500 mile mark.

This same thing applies to transmissions and differentials. Metal particles worn or chipped off the gear teeth are circulated by the transmission oil and act as harmful abrasives in the gear cases. The metal particles are especially dangerous if they find their way into the bearings on which the gears and axles revolve. Merely draining the gear cases will not completely rid the cases of these metal chips.

The cases should be flushed before being refilled with fresh Summer Grade Petroleum.

Flushing is Cheaper

There are two methods which can be used to clean the inside of the engine—removing the crankcase and cleaning the pan and oil lines by hand, or flushing the motor thoroughly with flushing oil. Removing the crankcase is a costly and usually needless job. In most cases good results can be obtained by proper flushing.

The Pure Oil Co. of Indiana is offering their many products as well as complete service to the thousands of motorists at the most economical rates. Drive into the station of your nearest dealer of Pure Oil Products, get that car conditioned for spring and summer, and

KANSAS CITY THUGS KILLS NEGRO POLITICIAN

(By ANP)—On the bloodiest election day ever seen in Kansas City four persons were killed last Tuesday and 11 wounded by alleged political thugs and hoodlums, engaged desperately in the battle between the Democratic machine and the Citizen-Fusion ticket.

One of those killed was William Finley, 56-year-old Democratic precinct captain.

The polling place for Finley's precinct was located in a grocery store. While no officers or other guard was present, a car containing four white men drove up to the polling place, the white men entered and started beating one of the colored judges, all the time dragging him to the door.

Finley heard the commotion and rushed to the scene, commanding the thugs to turn their victim loose. Instead, they drew guns. Finley drew his also. Shots blazed out from both sides. Finley fell with a bullet thru the heart. One of the thugs received a bullet in the stomach. He escaped, but was located in a hospital later.

Negro precincts piled up heavy majorities for the Democrats led by Tom Pendergast.

TO VOTE, REGISTER NOW!

This editorial is intended as a direct appeal to all patriotic citizens of Indianapolis and the County of Marion.

On next Tuesday first guns will be fired in a drive to be opened by the people for the highly important purpose of nominating candidates for municipal and county offices.

The momentous question involving the most acceptable candidates to be nominated on both the Democratic and Republican tickets will be decided in the primaries.

On you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, will then devolve the vital duty of nominating for public offices the best procurable material yours also on that day, follows citizens, will be the task of determining who the people shall vote for in the November elections.

This is a mighty important job, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, and it must be attended to by you with patriotism of the good citizens that you are.

But, however, good you may be as citizens, there is very little you can do to advance the interests of your community as a non-voter.

In other words, it's the voting citizen that creates the character of government under which all the people must live.

It is the voter that shapes the kind of administration best suited to his.

Not the stay-at-homes. They prefer to risk their sacred liberty by remaining away from the polls; leaving the vital question of government in the treacherous hands of selfish politicians; find helpless faults with unsatisfactory conditions they themselves helped to create.

If you fail to vote in the primaries Mr. and Mrs. Indianapolis Citizens you will have done yourself, your family and city a great injustice.

To avoid committing so gross an insult to your community and its general welfare see to it that you go to the polls and vote.

But, dear citizen, to vote in the primaries and elections, it is highly necessary that you comply with the law and Register, not tomorrow, but Now!

Indianapolis, the County of Marion and the State of Indiana expect every voting citizen to do his full duty in the good government campaign to be launched by the people beginning next week.

But, we repeat, dear voter, to vote, you must Register Now!

BUSINESS PREPAREDNESS
Among the most essential instruments of progress of which our people are in dire need is greater business preparedness.

The time has come when, as a people, we should take steps to reach out more intelligently, efficiently and aggressively for our rightful share of profits obtainable in the business and commercial fields.

We are confident that a helpfully large number of our people are cognizant of that fact.

It is rightly a being pointed out, that for our good, Negro business promoters, (active or prospective, should devote more time to the study of business in all its many intricate phases.

There is absolutely no success in these days of highly specialized business and professional systems. We know that. Leading students of the times are unanimously in accord with the opinion as expressed in these columns that colored men and women in every state of the union, should make a more intensive study of business social and industrially.

Along with the necessity for vastly more business knowledge within our group, there is imperative need for more of the kind of business vision without which no people can survive.

We are credited with very little, if any business creating genius, a circumstance that has, and is still contributing, its share of apparently insurmountable barriers to our social, economic and industrial progress.

The want of a greater measure of natural ability to open our doors to opportunities that knock at our doors but once, continues to eat at vitals of our people's very existence.

Such a state of things should be alarming to any ambitious group. Our people are fortunately not unmindful of the fact that their individual salvation in the scheme of all things depends entirely upon themselves.

That is a bit encouraging, but it remains for us, nevertheless, if we are ever to reach our place in the business sun to launch a nationwide Negro Business Preparedness program, by Negroes for Negroes and thereby attempt to elevate ourselves in the estimate of the other peoples of the world; raise our economic status and put an end for ever to false propaganda branding the Negro as a veritably confirmed social beggar.

A PRECIOUS EXAMPLE

A recent Associated Negro Press dispatch credits at least one more member of the group with much of the sort of superiority complex so badly needed by most so-called race leaders:

The citizen in question is Dr. Henry H. Walker, Nashville, Tenn., physician and surgeon, who is a candidate for councilman in his city.

Dr. Walker, who is commander of post No. 6, of the American Legion, is on record as having turned down an offer of $1,250 in "Cold United States currency unmarked" to withdraw from the race, in behalf of a candidate.

It is needless to say that the attitude on the part of the Tennessee physician was a manifestation of commendable political courage.

It is more than that: It is a precious example; one that could be profitably followed by politically aspiring Negroes everywhere.

In the heart of the bitter south with the ability to look his political enemies straight in the eye and say, "I Will Not Sell My Race" for any sum of money.

Refusal by Dr. Walker to sell out is further evidence of his own self and his people in the estimate of professional swindlers should be productive of substantial reactions in support of the Tennessee's political ambitions.

Rejection of the tainted money should serve as a notice to enemies of Negro advancement that they now have a very different type of Negro to contend with, politically or otherwise.

Dr. Walker's action reveals in impressive terms that the Negro race is slowly, but surely coming into its own as a group to be reckoned with in the shaping of our government.

It proves too, that the contemptible Uncle Tom type of Negro politician is rapidly disappearing from the face of the earth. A circumstance over which every decent colored American voter should rejoice.

But for the superior mettle that is in him, the Tennessee physician would have stooped to the level of the human parasite his would-be political backers evidently took him to be.

If elected, we are sure Dr. Walker would be a credit to the Nashville, Tenn., city council personnel.

NEGRO WAR FILM

Work of Negro troops in the World War is soon to be exhibited in moving pictures.

The pictures, dealing graphically with the conduct of colored American soldiers during the conflict is near completion we understand.

The screen product which will be entitled, "The Unknown Soldier Speaks", will contain numerous hitherto suppressed photographic reproduction of the behavior of race fighters on the western front.

It is recalled that all the many films made of Uncle Sam's land and sea forces in the great world conflict, none has yet been shown of the brilliant fact which Negro soldiers took in the bloodiest conflict in all history.

The new picture will undertake to do this should be of immense interest to all patriotic colored American men and women.

The bravely displayed and great sacrifices made by Negro soldiers to make the world a much safer and better place in which to live, will be the special features connected with the picture, we understand.

The new photoplay is calculated to elicit a wider appreciation for members of the groups in and out of Uncle Sam's service.

Announced purpose of the film is to compare the present state of the world with its unrest and threats of war, with the situation that precipitated the greatest of all wars.

The picture will also "show the significance of the social and nationalistic movements of today as compared with the same movements of 1914, according to promoters of the picture.

"The Unknown Soldier Speaks", we are told, embodies numerous other novel and educational features which should make for deserved popularity.

The photoplay will be released during the present month, according to latest information on the subject.

NOW SINCE EASTER has come and gone, we can get down to business of preparing for the next holiday, Tuesday May 8th. Political fishermen will be angling for the biggest catch of votes. One advantage of the Primary law, any one can run for any office he chooses and blame only himself if he loses.

It is the political party's best instrument for continued life, its valve of personal ambitions. Do away with the primary and you will create new parties.

YOU HAVE yet time to register in order that you may be able to vote, if you hurry. If you fail to register then your next door neighbor who has registered will control you in matters of government. The registered voters through their elected representatives will rule the city county and state and you, if you like so well and good, if you don't you can't do anything about it for you can't vote, because you failed to register. You can register at the office of The Indianapolis Recorder at anytime, between now and midnight Monday, April 9th.

THE CWA HAS finished its work and gone to the alphabetized bone yard. The CWA worker reaches into his pocket and finds not a dollar there, he is back from whence he started. The merchants and money dealers find their vaults filled with government shiekies; they buy and push and move forward and try to make others think that it is prosperity coming back on its own accord. They are only fooling themselves, no complete and sound prosperity with 10 million idle workmen or men workers for subsistence only.

OF COURSE WE could perhaps place the 8 or ten millions unemployed on permanent relief and go along with part prosperity leaving them out, thus creating an "upper and lower" class of Americans, this however, would be a dangerous policy, for it easier to go down than up.

IT HAS BEEN proven to the workers that there can be a way made to furnish them with employment, and that the government is responsible for their welfare or they will select a government that will be. Unemployed workers no longer look upon themselves as charity wards, but as red-blooded Americans citizens, to whom all others are duty bound to support. This is proven by the strikes that took place among the CWA forces.

IT MUST MAKE one feel a bit proud to feted and eulogized as was the Hon. Henry Wilson, Jr., last Monday night at the Walker Coffee Pot, and no less proud should be the racial group from whence he is. Attorney General Lutz made no mistake in appointing such a talented young lawyer as Mr. Wilson as an assistant. We are grateful to Mr. Lutz for Mr. Wilson's appointment. Mr. Wilson will, no doubt, make such a creditable showing, that the next appointment will not be delayed, and will be "deputy" attorney general.

SPEAKING OF the Walker Coffee Pot reminds me that the Walker drug store has been altered so that they may "sit down" as well as "sit up" to your sodas, lunches and meals.

SOME WERE inclined to laugh when candidate Roosevelt announced that he would not accept the nomination.

THANK YOU MR. Elton Mills for your correction, you are quite right. I did misquote Dr. Osborne unintentionally. No one has a greater respect for the eminent doctor than I, not only personal respect but a great deal of respect for his opinions, even though we may differ of things irrelevant.

THE 800 BLOCK on Senate Avenue, once an exclusive residential section is tumbling down by the hands of wrecking crews. Strange how the "worms" turns, once the owners "would" not rent to colored people, then they "could" not rent to colored people, now they are wrecking them. Wise are those who do not try to buck the irresistible force of population expansion, but move along with it.

ALONG ABOUT this time of the year we look for two familiar words, "Membership Campaign" then we see two more "Annual Spring", then four letter and four periods, Y.M.C.A., the word "to" between four figures 1934 with the word April in front of them. You know what they mean, you know what to expect so get ready.

PRaises DOCTORS

The Parent-Teachers Association of School No. 64 wishes to openly thank the physicians of the Aesculapian Medical Society, who so ably contributed their services in vaccinating our boys and girls from Schools No. 79, 19 and 64 against smallpox and typhoid fever. With School No. 64 at a center, over 200 of our children were vaccinated free of charge by Drs. R. B. McArthur, Ezra Alexander, Scoble Linthecum and R. B. Pruitt. Dr. McArthur, president of this Society, we especially thank, because during the inclement and rough weather of this winter, he came to us regularly at school to vaccinate our children. We are so grateful to him for his service.

We also wish to thank Dr. Herman G. Morgan of the Board of Health for contributing the syring for this vaccination and Miss Mary Sales for assisting our physicians.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. Opal Wright, president P.T.A. of School No. 64.

THE BOGEY OF SOCIAL EQUALITY

To the Editor: For more than a quarter of a century the Negro, inspired by Dr. W. E. B. DuBois and the N.A.A.C.P., assisted by the Negro intelligentsia, wasted entirely too much energy trying to obtain what his leaders had chosen to call "Social Equality". Dr. DuBois has now changed his mind and is advising the Negro to choose between "segregation and starvation". It has been extremely difficult for our group to endorse the program of Social Equality as it was advocated, chiefly because living in a community functioning on the principle of popular expression or consent of the people, it is a mathematical impossibility for the minority elements of such a society to overcome the sentimental desires of the majority elements whose intent and purpose are to maintain the hypothetical assumption of racial superiority.

Every individual has the personal and private right to social selectivity, and no legislation can be enacted to alter such a privilege which would receive the endorsement of the people. Even Negroes, themselves, are at liberty to exercise this personal right—so why should we question the right of others to do so?

Only when others permit their personal opinions to interfere with our public rights that we should oppose, but contending for social equality will never obtain the desired results. Such a procedure tends to misrepresent our true desire and is generally the cause for misunderstanding and lack of success. Social recognition must precede social equality. If one is not recognized how can there exist any possibility of acknowledgment?

Observant Negroes have been at a loss to know why any Negro would spend as much valuable time as Dr. DuBois has done trying to acquire something that is of no particular value at this time. The Negro needs to acquire a recognition for which he can call home.

Having fortified himself in this manner, matters of a social nature will automatically adjust themselves. We are glad that Dr. DuBois has the courage to advocate what he finds to be true today even though it contradicts what he has advocated for the past quarter of a century.

—BENJAMIN A. OSBORNE.

THE CITY HOSPITAL ISSUE

The Editor: I have read with great interest your open letters to the candidates for the nomination for Mayor of our City, in both Political Parties, displayed in bold face type on the front page of your very valuable paper for the past three weeks. I have also read your editorials as they have appeared on the same subject. By these efforts you are trying to pull out of these candidates a statement as to their stand on the very vital and pressing question of Negro State physicians, interners and trained nurses at the City Hospital. This is indeed a laudable service you are rendering to the public of Indianapolis, with special regard to the Negro. I place my stamp of approval on every word that you have said, and am doing my best to assist you in the accomplishment of these very things. Still I am greatly amazed when I realize that all of your efforts seemingly are centered on the Mayoralty candidacy.

This seems to be a day when every man who is at the head of anything is supposed to set himself up as a dictator or czar, and all others are supposed to follow blindly, still there is such a thing as revolt, and it may be that those other candidates who are running for positions in the City who are

The Aftermath of the Parker Case

By KELLY MILLER

The fate of Roosevelt's "New Deal" was probably sealed when Judge Parker's nomination for the Supreme Bench was rejected by the Senate. Two testing decisions have recently been handed down by that august tribunal upon which hinged the validity of the N.R.A.—the cornerstone of the President's recovery program. Both of these decisions were reached by a majority opinion of four to five. Upon the defeat of Judge Parker, Mr. Roberts of Philadelphia was nominated and confirmed. The new Justice has aligned himself with the progressive element of the Supreme Court and has joined with four of his forward looking colleagues against the reactionary tendency of the minority. Had Judge Parker's nomination been confirmed, it is but fair to presume that his opinion would have shifted the Court's decision to the other side of the scale. Thus the "New Deal" upon which the administration stakes so much store would have been checked, if not defeated by the Supreme Court.

It will be recalled that the Parker nomination engendered two distinct factors of opposition. The liberal element in the Senate and in the country antagonized the appointment on the grounds that the nominee was reactionary in opinion and judgement and that his confirmation might serve to defeat liberal and progressive legislation that might be referred to the Supreme Court for adjudication. His stand on the "Yellow Dog" case was held up as proof sufficient of his attitude. This judgment seemed to be prophetic and the defeat of his nomination now seems to have forestalled the conclusion which was then apprehended. Although the administration corralled all of the supporting strength which political persuasion knows how to command, the confirmation failed by the narrow margin of a single vote. It may be that the destiny of the nation hinged on the vote. What momentous consequences may hinge on a single, and seemingly, simple issue?

The other factor in opposition to Judge Parker's nomination approached the question from a different direction and with wholly dissimilar motive. Under the leadership of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the united strength of the race was pledged to Judge Parker's defeat. While candidate for the governorship of North Carolina on a lily white Republican ticket, he had openly repudiated the spirit and letter of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments which made the Negro a nullity in the political equation of that state. Acquiescence in his doctrine would speedily eliminate him from the square in the political arena. Under the matchless leadership of Walter White, the uncompromising executive of the N.A.A.C.P., the race was welded into a political unity such as has never been the case before or since.

It is universally conceded that the Negro contingent in opposition influenced a sufficient margin of senatorial votes to turn the scales on the side of defeat. The Negro opponents were, for the most part, unconscious, or at least oblivious of the economic effect of Parker's defeat. On the other hand, many of his partners in this adventure, cared nothing for his contentions as the political and civic rights. But both sides pursued the same objective actuated by different motives inspired by different purposes. Indeed, politics makes strange bedfellows. But now that it is all over, both sides can view the victory in retrospect as a more momentous portent that either dreamed of at the time.

But now since the great transaction is done, we can all indulge in the irresponsible mental pastime in reflecting on "What might have been" had the decision gone otherwise. The ship of state has been launched upon the new enterprise of the "New Deal". Under the captaincy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the hopes and fears, perhaps, the destiny of the nation are involved in its destination. If this voyage is a success, the nation is secure and prosperity is in sight, and not around some elusive corner, and Roosevelt's name will rank among the greatest in human annals. If it fails—it must not fail—great will be the failure thereof, entailing the upsetting if not the downfall of our economic and political structure.

The Negro has an uncanny political instinct. General Grant used to say that the colored man is fundamentally right on every great question that has ever confronted the nation. This instance proves no exception. In safeguarding his rights, he as we have every reason to believe, has saved the nation from reaction and set it on its upward way.

THE 49TH STATE

(By JOSEPH C. CARROLL)

There is an old adage that says history repeats itself, and to the uncritical and unobservant mind it seems true. On the other hand a careful study of history and of the historic method reveals the fact that history does not repeat itself, but what happens is nothing more than a frequent occurrence of similar incidents, under similar situations and circumstances. A historic event can never happen but once, a fact which has led the natural scientists to deny history a place among the so-called exact sciences. But in the recent emergence of the Forty-Ninth state idea to the focus of public attention we almost have a repetition of history.

Long before the Civil War and the abolition of slavery in the United States, both friends and foes of the Negro decided that the people of color could never be absorbed or assimilated by American society, nor could they ever attain their full rights as men and as citizens. Hence, it was concluded that they must be separated, or colonized either within or beyond the borders of the United States, where they might become as good Negroes as it was possible for them to be. For this purpose as early as 1816 the organization of the American Colonization society was well under way, supported by such distinguished American statesmen as Henry Clay, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe. Out of the Colonization movement came the establishment of the Negro Republic of Liberia on the West Coast of Africa, which adopted a constitution and took its place in the family of nations in 1847. In the compromises of 1820, 1850, and 1854 all tried in vain to localize slavery and thus solve the nation's most perplexing problem. In recent years we have witnessed the rise and fall of the Back to Africa Movement.

2. This movement is unwise because it would not solve our problem, for there is no difference between selfishness, greed and avarice under a dark skin, and that under a white skin. In the final analysis there is a oneness of human nature. Liberia did not bring the King of God, nor a golden age among the Negroes who settled that far off land.

3. A new state would not completely separate us from the rest of the nation. Travel, interstate commerce, representation, and a thousand and one other problems would arise to vex the promoters. We should learn from the wisdom of the late Booker T. Washington, who advised that we should learn to make ourselves so essential to the community in which we live that we shall be wanted and not merely tolerated. On his recent visit to this city, Dr. DuBois, that Major prophet of the twentieth century, pointed out a wise and safe way, when he said that we must think and plan our own segregation, to the end that we may use it, as a means of destroying it. Carter G. Woodson, in his recent book "The Negro Education of the Negro," has descended from the clouds of abstract idealism, to the clouds of earthy realism, and says that we must cease talking about things as we would like to have them, or as they ought to be, and face the situation as it is. He concludes that our economic hope is in our beginning to develop some basic legislation for a few and oppression and poverty for the many.

E.J.M.—Is there any success for my sister?

Ans.—Success will come for your sister in her chosen field of song writing but this is some years off. She should apply herself along commercial lines now so that she will have money enough to carry out her plans when opportunity knocks at her door.

P.A.H.—Will I ever marry the man I love?

Ans.—Well, you have married him already. You are only infatuated with this other man. You will soon realize that it is your husband you love—now let your affection for the other party die.

M.G.—Please tell me the whereabouts of my son?

Ans.—The water at this time. The impression of oil comes to me. I believe that he is working on an oil barge in or around the Gulf of Mexico.

C.M.B.—What steps would be wise for me to take, as I feel so melancholy with my married life. Can I remedy it?

Ans.—Of course you can. You must certainly not get happiness out of marriage without putting a little happiness into it. Try looking on the bright side of life—also let your husband a little more attention.

RICHARDSON OUT FOR RE-ELECTION TO ASSEMBLY

Henry J. Richardson, Jr., local attorney, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as state representative from Marion County.

Mr. Richardson is seeking his second nomination in this office, having been elected to the place in 1932.

Mr. Richardson achieved national prominence in 1933, by securing passage of the "Richardson Labor Bill" in the Indiana Legislature, a bill to prohibit the discrimination on public jobs, financed from city, county or state funds. The discrimination measure was the first law of its kind ever passed in America, it is claimed.

Mr. Richardson is a practicing attorney, senior member of the firm of "Richardson & Austin," with offices at 229 1/2 Indiana Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana, and 612 W. 9th Street, Cincinnati, Ohio. He has been an active Democratic for ten years, and a leader in State Politics for many years, he has served as Judge Pro-Tem and Special Judge, on numerous occasions in the Courts of Marion County. REV. A. WOMACK IS ENDORSED FOR CME BISHOP

Rev. Arthur C. Womack, pastor of Phillips Temple church, has been endorsed for the bishopric of the C.M.E. church instead of the A.M.E.Z. church as appeared in an article published in this paper last week. Countless telephone messages and letters from various parts of the country have called our attention to the typographical error that wrongly identified this outstanding clergyman.

Latest reports show ministers and laymen of the C.M.E. church are working enthusiastically for his election. The general conference meets in May.

BAPTIST TO STAGE SUNDAY SCHOOL DRIVE

A citywide, intensive "go to Sunday school" drive will be inaugurated Sunday, April 8, in practically every Baptist church in the city. The movement has the cooperation of the Baptist Ministerial alliance.

The campaign will be continued until June 10—Children's Day—when a special program will mark its closing.

Prominent church workers, business and professional men and women have joined the movement and will appear at the churches each Sunday as guest speakers. The importance of going to Sunday School will be emphasized.

Rev. Judge I. Saunders is the general chairman, and H. H. Abel, president of the district convention and Abraham Davis president of the central district are co-chairmen.

The following is a list of guest speakers and the churches at which they will appear Sunday, at 9:30 a. m.:

Mr. E. Z. Alexander, Twenty-fifth Street church.
Mrs. E. M. Peters, Seventeenth Street church.
H. H. Abel, Beulah Baptist church.
Mrs. Elizabeth Anthony, Good Hope.
Dr. Frank Chowning, Antioch.
Mrs. Mima J. Wood, New Baptist.
Rev. G. W. Oglesby, New Nazarene.

Insufficient Check Room Force Given As Reason for Easter Dance Battle

Disillusionment, dishonor and disgrace fell across the city early Tuesday morning when it surveyed the casualty lists of the third major hat-and-coat battle to be staged at Tomlinson hall within two years. The mad free-for-all scramble that followed the close of Persian Temple's annual Easter dance and Radio Revue counted scores of bloody noses, black eyes, cranial "hickies," loose teeth, scratches and facial and body lacerations as nearly one thousand lower class dancers fought, kicked, scratched and pummeled each other in an effort to simultaneously get their wraps the newly constructed check room at the hall.

Fully $1,000 of clothing was reported missing, and approximately $8,000 was damaged beyond the state of repair in the battle that lasted three hours. One young lady, Miss Cleo Davis, 25, 1318 Cornell was placed under arrest when she is alleged to have physically assaulted a police officer who was assisting in the vain attempt to restore order.

The trouble started shortly after one o'clock as the strains of Brown Buddies entrancing dance music died away. The two o'clock room attendants were swamped with a deluge of requests for checks, "at once." Slowness on their part is said to have been met with a determined raid by the checkholders.

Police under Lieutenant Dan Cummings essayed to straighten things out. Only after three hours of wearying effort did they succeed. Investigation absolved officials of Persian Temple of blame for the checkroom affair, through their leasing of the concession to Beverly Howard who in turn has leased it to Frank Preston, who had made a charge of ten cents for the check-recommendation. Lack of sufficient number of check room attendants is given as one reason for the "raid."

ANTI-LYNCH LAW HELD TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL BY TUTTLE

WASHINGTON, D.C. March 30.—A comprehensive 28-page brief setting forth the constitutionality of the Costigan-Wagner federal anti-lynching bill was filed last week with the senate subcommittee on the judiciary by Charles H. Tuttle, former U. S. district attorney for New York.

The brief declares that lynching has become a national menace and that the lynchings of white and colored men last year "have been eloquent proof that this form of primitive savagery is not on the decline, and that both in its manifestation and in its consequences it is not only of grave concern to the individual states, but an imminent peril to the nation as a whole."

Nation Should Defend Self

The introduction to the legal argument continues:

"The time, therefore, has come when the nation should defend itself against this national evil which has assumed colossal proportions. Whatever our views of state rights may be, we must recognize that, under present day condition in the solution of national questions state boundaries are becoming less distinct. More and more the national resources are called upon for the making of local improvements within the several states and for the relief of their population from economic and physical distress. Hardly, then, does it seem fitting that where the national government is on the solicitation of state and local communities, making every increasing investment among them, they should deny to the national government an interest and voice in preventing in their own midst recurrences of mob insurrection, which destroy the security of the national investment and which undetermine the strength of the national credit and of the national institutions.

"The power thus to protect the nation against internal national dangers of this character were expressly conferred upon Congress by the United States Constitution."

Gets In Bed With Shoes On—Divorced

Husbands may or may not be pardoned if they go to bed drunk. But to go to bed with ones clothes and shoes on is the greatest of unpardonable sins. In the opinion of Mrs. Della Barber, Judge John Kern, Superior court room 1 shares this opinion for he granted Mrs. Barber a divorce last week from her husband Robert Barber after hearing the sad story of his alleged indiscretions.

The couple was married October 12, 1916 and lived together until April 23, 1931. They have one child May Belle Barber, 16 years old. Attorney H. F. Perry, 533 N. Senate avenue represented the plaintiff. Mrs. Barber lives at 1101 Fayette
